

UNC – Chapel Hill: Division of Rehabilitation Counseling and Psychology

Position: Clinical Instructor, Non-Tenure Track

Proposed Start date: 8/15/2011

Application Deadline: Open until filled

The University of North Carolina, Department of Allied Health Sciences, is inviting applications for an instructor position in its Division of Rehabilitation Counseling and Psychology. The Department of Allied Health Sciences is part of the UNC School of Medicine and is located on the University's main campus in Chapel Hill, North Carolina. The Division of Rehabilitation Counseling and Psychology provides outstanding opportunities and support for teaching and clinical practice in a highly collaborative, interdisciplinary environment. Further information about the Department and Division is available at <http://www.med.unc.edu/ahs/>

Responsibilities

Primary responsibilities include teaching and advising master's level graduate students in the Division of Rehabilitation Counseling and Psychology. Candidates with teaching expertise in the following areas will be given particular consideration: Job Placement/Vocational Rehabilitation; Medical and Psychosocial Aspects of Disability; and Research Methodology. Applicants should have a doctorate in Rehabilitation Counselor Education, Rehabilitation Counseling, Counseling Psychology, Rehabilitation Psychology, or a closely related field. ABD will be considered; the CRC credential is strongly preferred.

The Division of Rehabilitation Counseling and Psychology curriculum includes specializations in developmental and psychiatric disabilities. The instructor position requires a focus in rehabilitation counseling practice across a range of disability and multicultural populations, but with specific attention to these two areas.

Qualifications Required

- PhD (or ABD) in Rehabilitation Counselor Education, Rehabilitation Counseling, Counseling Psychology, Rehabilitation Psychology, or a closely related field.
- Successful experience supervising and teaching masters students in counseling or psychology program.
- Experience providing rehabilitation services to people with disabilities.
- Strong potential for teaching and student mentoring in rehabilitation counseling.

Qualifications Preferred

- Current CRC credential strongly preferred.

- Strong record of publication and funded research.
- Experience serving persons with developmental and/or psychiatric disabilities.
- Experience with individuals across the spectrum of disabilities with an emphasis on community inclusion.
- Eligible for professional licensure as Licensed Professional Counselor or Licensed Addictions Specialist.

Application Procedure: Applicants complete an online application at <http://jobs.unc.edu/2501285> and should attach: Curriculum vitae, letter of application describing qualifications/expectations. In addition, two letters of reference must be submitted to: Eileen Burkner, PhD, Chair, Search Committee, Division of Rehabilitation Counseling and Psychology, Bondurant Hall, 301 S. Columbia St., Suite 2083, CB#7205, University of North Carolina School of Medicine Chapel Hill, NC 27599, Phone: 919 966 9125, email: eileen_burker@med.unc.edu.

UNC is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer