

Spring 2014-15 / Summer 2014-15 ELIP Courses

Writing, Oral Communication, & Critical Reading

BOOST YOUR COMMUNICATION SKILLS with subject-specific assignments and individual attention! Our courses are housed in the Department of Linguistics, and do not affect GPA as long as credit is attained.

Writing for Research—Thesis and Dissertation (ELIP 5160) – 3 credit hours

For ALL graduate students.

- Writing a proposal, final research project, thesis, dissertation, or article for publication
- Organizing and writing up literature reviews, methods, results, and discussion sections

Spring – Tue 5:15-7:05pm (Class #3814) Gordy 305
This course is for graduate SCIENCE students

Spring – Wed 3:05-4:55pm (Class #3815) Gordy 203
Summer 2 – Online section (Class #3070)

Academic Writing in Graduate Studies (ELIP 5140) – 3 credit hours

For ALL graduate students.

- Academic style, revising and proofreading
- Writing a summary, critique, annotated bibliography, and literature review or research paper

Spring – Wed 4:10-6:00pm (Class #3812) Gordy 305

Spring – Online section (Class #3813)

Summer 1 – Online section (Class #3068)

Summer 2 – Tue, Thur 1:05 – 2:55pm (Class #3069)

Graduate Reading and Writing (ELIP 5120) – 3 credit hours

For international graduate students.

- Academic vocabulary, grammar, and reading in your discipline
- Writing summaries, response papers, and essays

Spring – Mon 3:05-4:55pm (Class #3811) Gordy 209

Summer 1 – Tue, Thur 3:05-4:55pm (Class #3067)

Oral Communication for the Graduate Research and Presenter (ELIP 5320) – 3 credit hours

For ALL graduate students.

- Strategies for defending your thesis/dissertation, presenting at conferences, performing in interviews
- Organizing ideas, answering questions, and using nonverbal language effectively

Spring – Tue 3:05-4:55pm (Class #3824) Gordy 315

Critical Reading and Analysis (ELIP 5100) – 3 credit hours

For ALL graduate students.

- Finding, reading, and evaluating sources in your discipline; reading faster, skimming, and scanning for information

Spring – Thur 5:15-7:05 (Class #3820) Gordy 305

Oral Communication in Graduate Studies (ELIP 5300) – 3 credit hours

For international graduate students.

- Strategies for public speaking and group discussions
- American culture, idioms, and conversation

Spring – Thur 3:05-4:55pm (Class #3823) Gordy 209

Summer 2 – Mon, Wed 1:05-2:55pm (Class #3071)

Online tutoring is available! Contact:
casal@ohio.edu

Visit
the ELIP Graduate
Writing Center

Find us at Gordy 009
Tuesday – Thursday
6:00pm - 9:00pm