

Free public screening of:

T E S T E D

Directed and produced by Curtis Chin

TESTED

The gap in opportunities for different races in America remains extreme. Nowhere is this more evident than our nation's top public schools. In New York City, where blacks and Hispanics make up 70% of the city's school-aged population, they represent less than 5% at the city's most elite public high schools. Meanwhile, Asian Americans make up as much as 73%. This documentary follows a dozen racially and socioeconomically diverse 8th graders as they fight for a seat at one of these schools. Their only way in: to ace a single standardized test. Tested includes the voices of such education experts as Pedro Noguera and Diane Ravitch as it explores such issues as access to a high-quality public education, affirmative action, and the model-minority myth.

Writer/Producer/Director CURTIS CHIN

Curtis Chin has written for shows on ABC, the Disney Channel and Nickelodeon, as well as projects for NBC and Fox. He has won awards from the National Endowment for the Arts, the New York Foundation for the Arts, and the San Diego Asian American Film Foundation, among others. He is currently a Visiting Scholar at NYU. "Tested" will be screened at the White House in November.

A Q&A will follow the screening.

OHIO
UNIVERSITY

Thursday, October 15, 2015
Morton 201
Doors open at 6:30 p.m. | Viewing begins at 7 p.m.

Sponsored by:
The Patton College Department of Teacher Education
The Patton College Diversity Committee
Office for Diversity and Inclusion