

Non-Tenure Track Visiting Teaching Faculty Position in Counselor Education

Department of Educational Studies, College of Education and Human Ecology, The Ohio State University

The Counselor Education Program in the Department of Educational Studies invites applications for three (3) full-time (9-month) non-tenure-track teaching positions to primarily support clinical mental health/addictions and school counseling foci within the program. The position includes a standard teaching load (4/4), including foundational classes, across both clinical mental health/addictions and school tracks. It is an exciting time to join the highly-ranked, CACREP-accredited counselor education program at The Ohio State University.

The candidate must meet the following required qualifications:

- An earned doctorate in the field of Counselor Education by July 31, 2023;
- A record of teaching and supervision of master's level students
- Potential to teach and mentor master's and Ph.D. students and contribute to curricular development in Counselor Education.
- The clinical mental health/addictions focused position requires the applicant to demonstrate the potential for an immediate licensure and supervision credential in Ohio.

The following are preferred qualifications:

- 2+ years of teaching experience
- 2+ years of supervision experience
- Experience as a professional school counselor or clinical mental health/addictions counselor

Responsibilities: The successful candidate will be an established or emerging teacher who prioritizes social justice and equity across their teaching, scholarship, and leadership. The candidate should demonstrate experience with, or potential for, high quality teaching. The successful candidate will be expected to engage in curriculum development, provide support for program growth, and participate in building a positive culture with students and faculty within the program.

Application Process:

All application materials must be uploaded via this Qualtrics link:
https://osu.az1.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV\_8bTcV4X19NWWtCC.

To apply, please submit a letter of application describing your interests and teaching experience. Please also upload your curriculum vitae, a statement describing your strategies for creating a diverse learning community, and your teaching philosophy. Evidence of teaching excellence may also be submitted. Additionally, please submit names and contact details of three references with your application. References will only be contacted if you are a final candidate. Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis with priority given to those received by April 1, 2023.

Additional questions can be sent to Dr. Brett Zyromski, Search Committee Chair at zyromski.1@osu.edu

The Ohio State University is committed to building a diverse faculty and staff for employment and promotion to ensure the highest quality workforce, to reflect human diversity and to improve opportunities for minorities and women. The university embraces human diversity and is committed to equal employment opportunity, affirmative action and eliminating discrimination. Discrimination against any individual based upon protected status—defined as age, ancestry, color, disability, gender identity or expression, genetic information, military status, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or veteran status—is prohibited. The Ohio State University is responsive to the needs of dual career couples.

The Department of Educational Studies welcomes applications from individuals who may have had nontraditional career paths or who may have taken time off for family reasons (e.g., children, caring for disabled or elderly family), or who have achieved excellence in careers outside of academia (e.g., in professional or industry service). The Department is committed to supporting the work-life balance of its faculty, staff, and students.

THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATIONAL STUDIES: The Department of Educational Studies is a multi-disciplinary department, offering both undergraduate and graduate programs. The department offers graduate programs in Special Education, Educational Administration, School Psychology, Educational Psychology, Counselor Education, Workforce Development, Learning Technologies, Philosophy and History of Education, Educational Policy, Higher Education & Student Affairs, and Quantitative Research, Evaluation, and Methodology. The department also offers undergraduate licensure programs in Special Education, Business Education, and Family/Consumer Sciences. Our School Psychology program is accredited by APA and NASP, and our Counselor Education program is accredited by CACREP. Our undergraduate programs have CAEP accreditation and our applied behavior analysis program in special education is accredited by ABAI. We also offer accelerated licensure programs for prospective principals and superintendents. More than half of our graduate programs are nationally ranked by U.S. News and World Report. The department also houses the Walter E. Dennis Learning Center (<http://dennislearningcenter.osu.edu/>), which provides academic support for thousands of students each year. The overall department structure provides close relationships among all program areas and offers numerous opportunities for faculty members to collaborate on both research and teaching with many areas throughout the entire Ohio State University academic community. For more information, please visit <http://ehe.osu.edu/educational-studies>.

The College of Education and Human Ecology at The Ohio State University is one of the best places to learn and embrace the human experience. We are known for developing Ohio's best educators, researchers, policymakers, exercise scientists, biomedical nutrition researchers, dietitians, financial advisors, event coordinators and other experts who improve society. The US News and World Report college ranking is No. 18 among 376 public and private universities granting doctoral degrees in education, tied with the University of California-Berkeley. The college ranks No. 10 among public universities. For more information, please visit <http://ehe.osu.edu>.

The Ohio State University is one of America's largest and most comprehensive public universities, with over 63,000 students. Ohio State is further recognized as a top-rated academic medical center and a premier cancer hospital and research center. As a land-grant university, Ohio State has a physical presence throughout the state, with campuses and research centers located around Ohio. For more information, please visit <http://osu.edu>.

The City of Columbus is a thriving cosmopolitan hub that has a real passion for The Ohio State University. A recent Gallup survey ranked Columbus the nation's second strongest metro area for job creation, with research and technology institutions taking the lead. The Columbus metro area continued its steady growth as its population hit 2,021,632 in 2015, up about 1.2 percent from 1,997,308 a year earlier. The city's corporate base and higher-education system draw people to it. The city is the 15th largest in the country; the metro area is 32nd. Explore the city of Columbus through this link. <https://www.columbus.gov/>.

EEO/AA EMPLOYER

The Ohio State University is located in Columbus, Ohio, the culturally vibrant capital of the state. The university is a center of innovation surrounded by diverse and livable urban, suburban, and rural communities. The Ohio State University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, or protected veteran status.