

Ohio Third Frontier Internship Program

The Opportunity

If you are interested in a career in an entrepreneurial work environment with a company developing new ideas and products, this may be your opportunity.

Ohio Third Frontier is offering motivated college students, pursuing degrees from an associate through the doctoral level, the chance to work in some of Ohio's most innovative early stage tech companies. These companies need talented engineers, researchers, market analysts, designers, marketers and other skilled workers. By joining as a paid intern, you'll get to work alongside experienced entrepreneurs, make meaningful contributions to a growing technology company, and learn the skills needed to work in a fast-paced, entrepreneurial environment.

How to Apply

Visit TFIP.development.ohio.gov and click on the Student Application button. Your resume will be sent to companies in the program seeking interns, and the traditional interview process will proceed from there.

What Companies are Looking For

Generally, these companies are looking for interns from engineering, business, marketing, and liberal arts backgrounds. The strongest candidates will also have the following character traits:

- A strong desire to learn
- Passion for entrepreneurship
- Persistence and determination
- Ability to collaborate with others
- Ability to work without direct supervision

For more information about the program, visit TFIP.development.ohio.gov

John R. Kasich, Governor

Development Services Agency

David Goodman, Director

Third Frontier
Innovation Creating Opportunity