

There is no place like our home.

General Mills field locations are keys to our success. With a focus on continuous improvement, these plants execute innovative ideas for products into the reality you see on the shelf. That's why the General Mills' supply chain is one of the most respected supply chains in the industry today.

Workplace Culture

Wellston is General Mills' largest and one of the most dynamic plants. As the sole producer of Totino's products, Wellston is the frozen pizza capital of the world. The plant features outstanding career opportunities in all functions within General Mills and maintains a strong commitment to development and career progression, both within Wellston and the broader Supply Chain. Through a commitment to human safety and food safety, Wellston is proud to service the Totino's brand.

Early Career Opportunities

Wellston's ECD program is an integral part of its cultural fabric. As such, Wellston prides itself on giving ECD's stretch roles, while providing the support necessary for success. Wellston is home to over twenty early career individuals in roles ranging from operations, engineering, quality & logistics. Given the wide range of opportunity, an assignment in Wellston helps our ECD's establish strong foundations for successful GMI careers.

The Community We Live In

Wellstone employees are committed to their community, donating over $130,000 to the Jackson United Fund.

Wellston has a population of 6,000 - and is located about 80 miles from Columbus, Ohio, and 35 miles from Athens, Ohio. Local attractions include the Ohio State Fair, the Hopewell Culture National Park and Museum, Hocking Hills, the Adena Mansion, and the Nelsonville Opera House.

There are many outdoor activities in Wellston, including hiking, camping, white water rafting and mountain biking. You can also go see your favorite local team, including the Ohio University and Ohio State University teams, or professional sports teams like the Columbus Clippers (minor league baseball), Columbus Crew (MLS), and Columbus Blue Jackets (NHL).
