Each participant will receive a personalized development plan, on-the-job training, and challenging assignments to refine skills and round out competencies.

Based on your Engineering discipline, as well as the department and projects you are assigned to, selected candidates may:

- Support qualified program engineers in developing new engineering programs, including revising and developing procedures, performing field walk downs and verifying inputs to the new programs
- Support the qualified Equipment Qualification (EQ) engineer in revisions to the EQ maintenance packages
- Perform equipment reviews in support of the Maintenance Rule Program owner and of the Maintenance Rule Program improvement actions

- Assist qualified engineers in developing design modification packages
- Support qualified system engineers in the continued effort to maintain the station's current maintenance strategy
- Provide support to system engineers with single point vulnerability reviews
- Assisting in the development of life cycle management plans for large capital equipment
- Support the conversion of engineering test procedures into operations test procedures and maintenance test procedures

Qualifications

- Must be enrolled in a four (4) year accredited college / university in a degree program focused on Nuclear Engineering
- Maintain a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.5 or better
- Must have the ability to work without sponsorship (now or in the future)
- Ability to commit to a minimum of two (2) CO-OP rotations
- Must be willing to relocate to / reside near Akron, Ohio for the duration of the assignment
- Successful completion of basic engineering coursework
- Must be able to work in both an office and plant environment with the ability to comply with safety procedures
- Experience with Microsoft Office applications and computer-aided design programs
- Positive communication skills (verbal and written) as well as organizational skills to prioritize and plan work, multi-task and meet project deadlines
- Ability to work independently or in a team environment with minimal supervision
- Ability to use analytical skills to resolve problems and think creatively
