DIGITAL SIGNAGE ARCHITECT

DIGITAL SIGNAGE ARCHITECT

Looking for entry-mid level programmer/application engineer to join growing team of experience architects to build unique interactions and experiences in a multitude of areas including manufacturing, health, education, banking and commerce areas. Will need a good balance of communications and presentations skills to work with IT knowledge workers as well as end users on implementing Digital Content Management systems into customer environments. Needs to be process oriented, willing to learn new software, have a strong mind for user centered interactions.

Responsibilities
- Work closely with Business Development, Creative Directors, and Account Managers to produce and provide excellent user friendly solutions for interesting and challenging problems existing in a wide range of business'
- Work with IT managers on installing server software and integrating it into Active Directory
- Work with Database administrators on datamining ODBC databases
- Develop custom scripting solutions for out-of-the-box problems
- Setup video players that are optimized to perform media rich content in 24/7 environments
- Work well with End Users on setup content management software and training them on its use
- Document the setup and infrastructure of the systems and architecture that were deployed so it can be supported by others

Qualifications
- Experience working with customers on application integration and end user adaption
- Experience working with Database quires and XML
- Experiencing working with scripting languages
- Ability to learn new software
- Ability to train others
- Strategic thinking and problem solving
- Good troubleshooting skills
- Good communications and documentation skills

Skills:
- Windows Operating System environments
- Understanding of Active Directory Groups and Permissions
- TCP/IP
- Understanding of ODBC Database connectivity and Query language
- Iron Python Scripting
- XML
- Microsoft Office

DIGITAL SIGNAGE ARCHITECT

Wishes (not required)

- LEAN Manufacturing or LEAN Processes
- Omnivex Certified, or experience working with Digital Signage or Streaming
- Degree in IT or Programming, or 5 years of experience in software deployment or Digital Signage
- HTML5/Java
- ActiveX

Radiant Technology is growing its award winning Digital Signage team. Radiant provides Visual Digital Messaging, Interactive, Wayfinding and Visual Dashboards for a wide verity of major brands in the corporate, medical, manufacturing, higher education and government arenas. If you are good person, interested in visual communications, and want to create great end user's experiences, then email us at Careers@RadiantTech.net, attach your resume with updated contact information, put the job title in the subject line and tell us why you want to join our team.