Frank Lloyd Wright's FALLINGWATER

Sunday October 25, 2009

Fallingwater is the name of a very special house that is built over a waterfall. Frank Lloyd Wright, America's most famous architect, designed the house for his clients, the Kaufmann family. Fallingwater was built between 1936 and 1939. It instantly became famous, and today it is a National Historic Landmark. Kentuck Knob is another of Wright's inspirations, located about seven miles south. Built in 1956, the house is currently owned by British Lord Peter Palumbo. (Please look over the information at <http://www.fallingwater.org>.)

Trip Highlights:

Reservations have been made for a tour of Fallingwater, beginning at 12:30 p.m. Lunch will be close by and we will continue to Kentuck Knob for our 3 p.m. tour.
