TAMMY FAYE'S FINAL AUDITION
Merri Biechler & Shelley Delaney
Brick Monkey Theater Ensemble

Introduction by Sam Crowl

Shelley Delaney

Merri Biechler is a playwright, actor, educator, and the Managing Director of Brick Monkey Theater Ensemble, a professional theater company located in Southeast Ohio. She is the recipient of a 2014 Boomerang Fund for Artists award. Her plays include Tammy Faye's Final Audition, An Appalachian Christmas Carol, and Confessions of a Reluctant Caregiver which received grants totaling $40,000 to use the play as a teaching tool for medical students. Merri received her MFA in playwriting from Ohio University. As an actor, Merri spent 18 months with the original Off-Broadway cast of Tony'n Tina's Wedding, appeared in the films He Said, She Said; The Thing Called Love; and Pieces of April; and guest-starred on episodes of Judging Amy, E.R., and Murphy Brown.

Shelley Delaney heads the performance program in The Ohio University Division of Theater, is a founding member of Brick Monkey Theater Ensemble, and a member of the performing arts unions: Actors' Equity Association and SAG/AFTRA. Regional theater acting credits include The McCarter Theatre, Bay Street, Cincinnati Playhouse, Victory Gardens (Joseph Jefferson nomination for Free Man of Color), GeVa, Cleveland Playhouse, Capital Rep, Delaware Theatre Company, Virginia Stage, Pittsburgh Irish and Classical Theatre, Two River, Dorset Theatre Festival, and Florida Rep. New York theaters include La Mama, the Ohio, EST, HERE, Circle Rep Lab, and many others. Shelley directs regularly on the OU main stage, and directed An Appalachian Christmas Carol at Stuart's Opera House for two consecutive years.

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT - Alan Boyd

Tom O'Grady, the Executive Director of the Athens Historical Society and Museum and speaker at the February Emeriti luncheon, gave an inspiring presentation on the history of canals in Ohio. I was particularly struck by the wonderful photos he showed of the many towns and villages in Ohio that once had working canals, many of which still have canal remnants. It became clear that there are a lot of historical locations here in Ohio which are available to be visited and seen if we will just get out and visit them. Too often, when we take vacations, we go to far away and exotic places.

Why don't we explore what is right here in our own backyard? It was obvious that Tom O'Grady has taken many interesting trips to towns in Ohio. Some I have never heard of. These places are available to all of us, if we will spend some of our time exploring them. There is a lot to be learned about the history of our state, its industries, old means of transportation, and products that once were very important to the economy of Ohio. It is not necessary to book a flight or arrange an expensive hotel; there is much to be discovered here in Ohio. We don't have to go far to have some great experiences.

The next time you take an excursion in Ohio I recommend that you visit the Athens County Historical Society and Museum and get some background information. It will make your trip a lot more interesting. Besides, you may need to get some directions to the places you want to visit. Bon Voyage!

Alan

ON THE GREEN WEEKEND IS EARLIER THIS YEAR!

Join your Ohio University Alumni Association for a spring Homecoming featuring academics and the arts May 18-22, 2016. The weekend will feature activities for the entire OHIO community, alumni and their families, and those celebrating class milestones and special reunions.

Wednesday (May 18): Early birds kick off the weekend with registration, campus tours sponsored by the Student Alumni Board, and a Scenic Railroad Tour in Nelsonville.

Thursday (May 19): Join us for a welcome reception and the Film Festival. Go back to the classroom for Alumni College courses on 3D printing, environmental health, popular culture icons, and more. Finally, join the Athens community for a Concert Under the Elms on College Green.

Friday (May 20): Start the morning with college-hosted breakfasts and more Alumni College courses. Stroll the bricks or the bike path and shop Uptown. In the evening, the Film Fest will continue and there will be Karaoke Uptown.

Saturday (May 21): The weekend shifts into high gear. Lace up your sneakers for the Bobcat Dash 5k. Head to the Convo to admire classic cars during the Cruise-In, then join us for the signature On The Green BBQ.

Sunday (May 22): Grab your sweetheart for the "OH, I dO" vow renewal ceremony. Cap off the weekend by stopping by the farewell brunch. [Information from the On The Green Home website.]

Notes on February's Luncheon Presentation by Tom O'Grady "THE STORY OF THE OHIO CANALS"

The completion of the Erie Canal, connecting New York City to Lake Erie in 1825, led Ohio to follow New York's lead. Governor Clinton broke ground for the Ohio canal system in July 1825. The first leg, the Ohio and Erie Canal system, 309 miles long, was completed in 1832. The system strengthened trade to New York on the east and south to New Orleans. It was extended to Nelsonville in 1840 and reached Athens in 1843. The development of an extensive railroad system toward the end of the 19th century doomed the canal system. In 1940, the portion of the canal through Nelsonville was filled in and is now known as Canal St.

IN MEMORIAM

Eugene Jennings, 92, passed away on February 1, at his home in Falls Church, VA. Gene was born in the small Kansas farming town of Arnold and grew up the youngest of three boys during the Depression. Blessed with perfect pitch, Gene showed a talent through childhood for the piano. When he left for Kansas University in 1941 it was to get a degree in music.

World War II interrupted Gene's studies at KU. His 1946 junior piano recital was, coincidentally, attended by John Baker, then the president of Ohio University. On the spot Baker offered him a professorship at OU, once Gene finished his degree.

After graduating Gene moved to Athens in 1949. In 1959 Gene earned a Ph.D. in piano at FSU. There he met a young harpist named Lucile High. They married after a whirlwind courtship that summer. He brought her back to Athens and they settled permanently, raising a family while both teaching at OU's School of Music. Gene retired in 1994.

Gene was preceded in death by Lucille and a son, Eric. He is survived by his sons Chris and Tom and their families.

WHEN THE WEATHER IS BAD ...

If it is a level 2 or 3 snow advisory, the lunch is cancelled.

If it is a level 1, lunch will be held as usual ... but drive carefully.

If you cannot get out of your driveway, even at level 1 (some of our fellow emeriti have steep driveways) call the O.U. Inn (740-593-6661) and ask them to let the Emeriti and Catering know so that the numbers may be adjusted.

If you want to know about snow information and other local emergencies, you can sign-up for telephone, mobile phone, email, or text messages from Alert Athens County. Click on this address (<https://member.everbridge.net/index/1772417038942516#/login>) to create an account. It's a fast and convenient way to know what's happening in the county.

Southern Charm: October 23-29, 2016

Experience true southern hospitality and charm in South Carolina and Georgia. Begin in beautiful antebellum Charleston, then travel south along the coast to historic Savannah and Georgia's Jekyll Island, the winter retreat of prominent gilded age families. Travel farther south and visit the United States' oldest city, St. Augustine, FL. From $2,299, Collette

Spotlight on San Antonio: December 1 - 5, 2016

Create wonderful holiday memories touring historic San Antonio, meeting the people, listening to the music, and sampling the cuisine. Highlights include Fiesta de las Luminarias, Mission San Jose, The Alamo, Bandera, LBJ Ranch, and Sandy Oaks Olive Orchard. From $1,899, includes air from Columbus, OH, Collette
