

Utah State University

Assistant Professor Position Announcement

The Emma Eccles Jones College of Education and Human Services at Utah State University invites applicants for a tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level to join the Internationally recognized Department of Instructional Technology and Learning Sciences

Successful candidates will have:

- A doctorate in Learning Sciences, Instructional Technology, or a related field
- Demonstrated excellence or the potential for future excellence in research and teaching.

Inquiries may be directed to Dr. Andrew Walker (andy.walker@usu.edu), selection committee chair, or any of the selection committee members: Dr. Brian Belland (brian.belland@usu.edu), Dr. Deborah Fields (deborah.fields@usu.edu), Dr. Victor Lee (victor.lee@usu.edu), Dr. Taylor Martin (taylor.martin@usu.edu)

Utah State University (USU) is a land grant institution based out of Logan, Utah with over 25,000 undergraduates and over 3,000 graduate students. U.S. News and World Report ranked the Emma Eccles Jones College of Education and Human Services at USU as 3rd in educational research funding and 28th overall and among 1,200 colleges of education. USU is an hour and half north of Salt Lake City and 3 hours from Jackson Hole, Wyoming. Logan borders a National Forest and is close to National Parks and scenic in its own right. The immediate region offers a variety of cultural experiences and outdoor activities, including access to world class skiing, fishing, mountain biking, and hiking trails.

We invite applications from interested candidates from all areas of research and teaching.

Further information and links to the online application will be available after August 1, 2014 via <http://itls.usu.edu>

