

Sustainability Studies Presents

America's Community Power Revolution

THURSDAY, MARCH 23rd | 4:30 - 6 pm
Baker Center Theater

Speaker: Paul Fenn

Paul Fenn is the author of numerous innovative laws and theoretical works on energy democracy. Over the past 25 years, Fenn has written numerous trend-setting laws, policies and program designs to enable communities to take control over and localize their energy supply, including the nation's landmark Community Choice Aggregation laws and the nation's first financing authority for renewables, known as "solar bonds." Founder and President of Local Power, Inc. (<http://www.localpower.com/>), Fenn is a consultant to municipalities implementing energy localization and customer ownership programs. He holds a Master's Degree from the University of Chicago.

Co-sponsors: Departments of History and Economics, Office of Sustainability,
Southeast Ohio Public Energy Council, UpGrade Ohio

THEME

OHIO
UNIVERSITY