

The OHIO Anthropology Club Presents

Professor C. Owen Lovejoy

University Professor
Department of Anthropology
Kent State University

"Ardi, Lucy and the Origins of Humans"

Biological Anthropologist, Owen Lovejoy will examine the origins of humans with evidence from his work on the new hominid "Ardi" (Ardipithecus ramidus) and our most famous ancestor "Lucy" (Australopithecus afarensis).

Photo courtesy of Kent State University

Thursday February 17th, 4:00 pm Baker Ballroom

Sponsored by The OHIO Anthropology Club, OCEES, The Kennedy Lecture Series, The Office for Research & Creative Activity, Sociology & Anthropology, Biological Sciences, Biomedical Sciences, The College of Arts & Sciences, The College of Medicine